

Rutgers PBLicizer

Volume 1, Issue 7

December 11, 2016

RUTGERS PBL HOSTS SIXTH ANNUAL DINING WITH THE DISTINGUISHED!

On December 2nd, 2016, Rutgers PBL welcomed nearly 200 students and professionals to its Sixth Annual Dining with the Distinguished. It was a night of casual networking over a banquet style dinner and an opportunity for those in attendance to network with professionals from companies such as Johnson & Johnson, Northwestern Mutual, Target, MARS Chocolates, CIT Group, Unilever, and many more! Since 2011,

Dining with the Distinguished has made it a focus to connect Rutgers students with professional mentors from a variety of industries. It has received the 2014 Scarlet Award for Outstanding Annual Program along with receiving the Best Networking Event award from Rutgers Business School for the past 2 years. The Rutgers PBL Executive Board would like to sincerely thank all the professionals who took time out of their busy schedules to come out and dine with the students and to thank all the students for attending and making the Sixth Annual Dining with the Distinguished a huge success and grand networking event - Rutgers's finest. We hope to see everyone and their friends next year as we continue to grow and improve this amazing experience.

LEGACY REVIEW:

On December 3rd, Rutgers PBL partook in the 13th annual Big Chill 5k walk/run. The event, which began in front of the College Ave Gym, was designed for a spirited cause - helping underprivileged children normally without the luxury of presents rekindle their Christmas joy. This year, a total of 685 participants came out donating unwrapped toys or cash totaling over $10K! We would like to thank everyone for coming and hope to see an even larger PBL turnout next year!

LAST MEETING RECAP:

Members learned the proper dining etiquette necessary to successfully collaborate with the professionals in preparation for Rutgers PBL's Sixth Annual Dining with the Distinguished. Topics discussed ranged from giving a healthy handshake to talking about appropriate topics and eating with proper manners. Members participated in a plating challenge and the winners received Rutgers 250 electric candles. Silver Members were also given special recognition.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

TIP:

Make the most of winter break by utilizing your free time wisely. You can gain exposure to your industry by reading up on the latest news, earn extra money through a part-time job or at home through various websites, or give your social media an update by cleaning through old posts and adding new information. Another option is to enrich your personal life through travel or community service! Whatever you choose, make the most of your Winter Break and remember to prepare for the PBL State Leadership Conference.

NEXT MEETING:

Our next meeting is Tuesday,
December 13, in Tillett Hall,
Rm 242

Topic: How To Make The Most Of Your Winter Break!

Rutgers PBL

Copyright © 2016 Rutgers Phi Beta Lambda, All
Rights Reserved